Consent to Publish

Lecture Notes in Computer Science

The Author agrees to deliver to the responsible Editor(s) on a date to be agreed upon the manuscript created according to the Instructions for Authors. Springer-Verlag agrees to publish the said Contribution at its own cost and expense.
Volume Editor(s): Title of Contribution: Author(s) name(s): Corresponding Author's name, address, affiliation and e-mail: $1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any endium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or e
Title of Contribution: Author(s) name(s): Corresponding Author's name, address, affiliation and e-mail: $1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees; to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but on the Author is not a Government perployee, Springer-Verlag attracts the U.S. Government proposes, If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author warrants that the work is original except for such excerpts from copyrighted works (including illustrations, tables, a	Title of the Book/Volume/Conference:
Title of Contribution: Author(s) name(s): Corresponding Author's name, address, affiliation and e-mail: $1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees; to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but on the Author is not a Government perployee, Springer-Verlag attracts the U.S. Government proposes, If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author warrants that the work is original except for such excerpts from copyrighted works (including illustrations, tables, a	Volume Editor(s):
Author(s) name(s): Corresponding Author's name, address, affiliation and e-mail: $1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees; to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government perpoyee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government proyals-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author warrants that the publicat
$ 1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royalty-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author marants that the work is original except for such excepts from copyrighted works (including illustrations, ta
$1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royally-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and te authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant copyright notic	Author(s) name(s):
§ 1 Rights Granted The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royalty-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes, If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant copyright noti	Corresponding Author's name, address, affiliation and e-mail:
The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the said Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royalty-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com. LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant copyrighnotice is repeated verbati
The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the saic Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royalty-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com. LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant copyright notice is repeated verb
The copyright to the Contribution identified above is transferred to Springer-Verlag GmbH Berlin Heidelberg (hereinafter called Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world the saic Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such as in its electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign languages and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights against infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according to the provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, either in its own name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution is not subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government employee, Springer-Verlag grants the U.S. Government royalty-free permission to reproduce all or part of the contribution and to authorize others to do so for U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or employee of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic reference to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerlink.com. LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant copyright notice is repeated verb	§ 1 Rights Granted
Instructions for Authors. Springer-Verlag agrees to publish the said Contribution at its own cost and expense.	Springer-Verlag). The copyright transfer covers the sole right to print, publish, distribute and sell throughout the world Contribution and parts thereof, including all revisions or versions and future editions thereof and in any medium, such electronic form (offline, online), as well as to translate, print, publish, distribute and sell the Contribution in any foreign la and throughout the world (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable). Springer-Verlag will take, either in its own name or in that of the Author, any necessary steps to protect these rights infringement by third parties. It will have the copyright notice inserted into all editions of the Contribution according provisions of the Universal Copyright Convention (UCC) and dutifully take care of all formalities in this connection, eithown name or in that of the Author. If the Author is an employee of the U.S. Government and performed this work as part of their employment, the contribution subject to U.S. copyright protection. If the work was performed under Government contract, but the Author is not a Government over the contribution of the contribution of the contribution of the contribution of the U.S. Government purposes. If any of the above Authors on this agreement is an officer or expected them to the contribution of the U.S. Government reference will be made to this status on the signature page. An author may self-archive his/her article on his/her personal website; however we request that the full bibliographic report to the LNCS publication is included and a link is inserted to the published article on Springer's website www.springerli LNCS online. The Author must ensure that the publication by Springer-Verlag is properly credited and that the relevant contice is repeated verbatim. The Author warrants that the work is original except for such excerpts from copyrighted works (including illustrations, tal text quotations) as may be included with the permission of the copyright holder and author thereof, in which case(s) the	the said as in its anguages against ag to the her in its fon is not ernment on and to employee reference ink.com, copyright bles, and e Author within the blibelous d that he
8.2. Andharda Dharanna	The Author agrees to deliver to the responsible Editor(s) on a date to be agreed upon the manuscript created according Instructions for Authors.	ng to the
The Author's Discount The Author is entitled to purchase for personal use (directly from Springer-Verlag) books published by Springer-Verlag at a discount of 33 1/3% off the list price. Resale of such books is not permitted.		rlag at a
§ 4 Entire Agreement This agreement shall be deemed to be made under and shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany.	This agreement shall be deemed to be made under and shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Federal I	Republic
Signature(s) of Author(s): Date:	Signature(s) of Author(s): Date:	